

PORT POPOWICE

WROCLAW, POLAND

Port Popowice marks a new chapter in the history of this unique place while maintaining a strong connection between the port's past and future. Also known as Marina Park, the 33-acre multifamily community brings new residential and commercial spaces to Wrocław's historic port district.

The façade features King Klinker's Old Factory thin brick in King size. Its warm, weathered appearance brings texture and character to the buildings while complementing the industrial heritage of the former port. The thin brick also creates a cohesive connection between the contemporary architecture and its historic surroundings.

WXCA, Mackow Design Studio created the architectural design, with Vantage Development leading the project. Inspired by the 100-year history of Popowice Port, the community blends tradition with modern design, urban living with nature, and the past with the future.
